

• Name: Po-Ren Hsueh

• Current Position:

Professor

Divisions of Clinical Microbiology and Infectious Diseases

Departments of Laboratory Medicine and Internal Medicine

National Taiwan University Hospital, National Taiwan University College of Medicine, Taipei, Taiwan

• Country:

Taiwan

• Educational Background:

National Taiwan University Hospital, National Taiwan University College of Medicine, Taipei, Taiwan

• Professional Experience:

Doctor Hsueh is Professor in the Departments of Laboratory Medicine and Internal Medicine at the National Taiwan University College of Medicine (NTUCM). After graduation from NTUCM, he completed several years of clinical internship and residency, specializing in clinical microbiology and infectious diseases.

• Professional Organizations:

Professor Hsueh is currently the president of Taiwan Society of Microbiology (TSM), Taiwan Society of Clinical Pathology and Laboratory Medicine (TSCPALM), Secretary-general of Asian Society of Clinical Pathology and Laboratory Medicine (ASCPALM), and Executive Committee Member of the Infectious Diseases Society of Taiwan (IDST). He is also the Editor-in-Chief of Journal of Microbiology, Immunology, and Infection (JMII, impact factor 3.493 in 2019), Section Editor of International Journal Antimicrobial Agents (IJAA), funding editor of Journal of Global Antimicrobial Resistance (JGAR), and sits on the editorial board of several prestigious journals, and acted as a reviewer for more than 50 journals.

• Main Scientific Publications:

His major research interests include epidemiology and mechanisms of antimicrobial resistance (bacteria, mycobacteria, and fungi), molecular epidemiology of emerging pathogens, molecular diagnosis of infectious agents, and infection control. Professor Hsueh has authored more than 950 original researches and review articles.